For Greenhouse forcing, for planting in gallon cans, or for selling as Perennial Clumps.

If grower has his own cold storage they can hold in storage at 30 degrees, not over or under. 30 degrees is the temperature eggs are stored at and it should be easy to find local storage and then the grower can draw them out as needed.

For Greenhouse forcing they should be planted in 6" pots. If the roots are too large for 6" pots they can be cut down to fit without hurting their forcing qualities.

It takes 90 days forcing time for Easter and 70 days for Mother's Day. This would be for stock that would be delivered in November or December and had not been in cold storage.

Cardinal—Similar to Redwing in color; smaller in bloom

Plants are well branched, healthy & ready for planting in 4" pots.

AN EXCITING new strain of azaleas is making its debut in the nurseries this spring. These new azaleas are mainly hybrids between the large flowered, early blooming Indicas and the hardy, later blooming Kurumes. But certain rhododendrons and other azaleas have also been used in the breeding program.

The originator, L. L. Brooks, started this project 10 years ago. He had these objectives in mind: to develop an azalea that would stand heat; have a compact, fairly dwarf form with evenly-distributed flowers of uniform size over the entire plant at one time; glossy, clean foliage; large blooms with exceptional coloring; and firm substance and lasting qualities.

BLOOM-RITE AZALEA REDWING

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Redwing is a real winner. It produces extremely beautiful, ruffled, hose-in-hose red flowers, with an undertone of orange. Except that it has a neater, more compact habit of growth, Redwing is a typical Kurume type. The flowers compare favorably in size with the Indicas, and are exceptionally long-lasting. Four color picture is shown on cover.

BLOOM-RITE AZALEA ECSTASY

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

This hybrid tends toward the Belgian Indicas in flower, foliage, and plant habit, although it is more compact, much harder, and easier to grow than the true Indicas. The double, high centered flowers, up to 4 1/4 inches across, are white, often striped or dashed with orchid, and have yellow-green markings in the throat. The foliage is light green and glossy.

BLOOM-RITE AZALEA MELODY

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Another Indica type plant, Melody has a more compact habit of growth and very dark green, thick, glossy foliage. The fuchsia pink flowers are similar to the Kurume, being hose-in-hose—that is, with one flower inside of another—but they have the size and flat opening habit of the Indicas.

BLOOM-RITE AZALEA CARDINAL

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Similar to Redwing in color of flowers, Cardinal has smaller hose-in-hose blooms. Its growth habit is much more compact than the Kurumes.

HEATING CABLE SETS

Gives You Better Germination—Faster Propagation—Healthier Plants Ready in Time for the Early Markets

Cable—For outdoor frames or greenhouses where heating cable is buried in the soil but the surrounding air is not heated by other means, approximately 10 watts per square foot of surface area is required.

In greenhouses etc. where the air as well as the soil is heated, approximately 5 watts per square foot has been found adequate. Heating cable is rated 6-2/3 Watts per lineal foot. It must be used in multiples of 60 ft.

60 ft. cables	400 Watts	110 volts
120 ft. cables	800 Watts	220 volts

Therefore a bed with soil heating only, with area of 160 square ft. should be heated as follows:

160 sq. ft. times 10 watts/sq. ft. = 1600 watts
For 110 volts, use 4-60 ft. lengths in parallel.....	1600 watts
For 220 volts, use 2-120 ft. lengths in parallel.....	1600 watts
For 440 volts, use 1-240 length.....	1600 watts
30 ft. Cable.....	$ 5.95
110 volt Heating Cable—60 feet.....	$ 9.95
220 volt Heating Cable—120 feet.....	20.75

Thermostats

For small jobs using only one or two of the 110 volt cables, the light duty thermostat is most economical. Do not use on voltage greater than 110 or more than two 110 cable sets.

For larger jobs, the heavy duty thermostat with bulb set in soil and with box containing electrical mechanism remote; the connecting tube is 18" long. This thermostat can be used for maximum of six 110 volt cable sets or six 220 volt cable sets.

Cat. No. 366X54—Light duty Thermostat.....	$ 7.50

Complete book of instructions is packed with each cable set.

Use the cable in hotbeds, solid frames or greenhouse benches.

Bring in your crops earlier with these Cable Sets than your competitor who does not utilize them.
